WORLD WAR WILL END THIS MONTH

WASHINGTON BELIEVES END OF FIGHTING NEAR

With Turkey Out and Austria-Hungary Sure to Surrender Within a Week, Germany Cannot Alone Stand Up More Than a Few Weeks Longer.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The world war, so far as actual fighting is concerned, will end during the current month.

Official and diplomatic Washington was extremely confident of this today. It based the belief on the complete elimination of Turkey, already accomplished; the almost certain capitulation of Austria-Hungary before the end of next week, and the realization that stripped of her allies, Germany cannot hold out more than three or fou more weeks at the outside.

The fate of Germany is absolutely in the hands of the Allied counselors at Versailles. No matter how rigid the demands that finally are made by that body the German government—whether the present one of the kaiser or one that will be formed with Liebknecht, Harden, et al., at the head—must accept them. All information reaching here simply strengthens that view.

The blatant boast of Hindenburg that "his armies" will hold the defense lines are talk, nothing else, military experts here say.

The great doorway into Germany from the south and southeast, via Austria-Hungary, will be unbarred with the capitulation of the dual monarchy. Germany has not enough troops available to hold her lines in the west and bring a new army into being to throw against the victorious Italians of General Diaz and the onrushing French-British-Serb-Greek forces who made up the army of the Balkans that started the crumbling of the Teutonic alliance by destroying Bulgaria.

The next few days will be the critical time, officials say. The supreme war council at Versailles is nearing a decision on the German armistice terms. It also has before it a summary of peace terms to be demanded. Germany tried her best to create dissension there. It is known here that there was a very considerable difference of opinion among the leaders who have been conferring on behalf of the United States and the Entente nations. But the German attempt to interfere with these councils by engendering national jealousies through covert propaganda, has utterly failed.

Reports from Colonel House, which are in the hands of the president, are understood to show that there are no irreconcilable differences of opinion among the conferees. There have been concessions by all concerned. Absolute diplomatic unity of action now is believed to be assured. This means that before the present conference ends its labors for a comprehensive peace program will be ready for announcement.

Incidentally, officials declared today that the peace conference will be entirely one-sided. Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria, having fought and lost will be given terms. They will not be allowed to debate them. These terms will safeguard the rights of the common people of all these countries. Enslaved people will be granted their freedom and a voice in all of their future affairs. But Germany will not be allowed to trade off any of her ill-gotten gains in return for concessions at a round table conference where her representatives would have an equal voice with the representatives of an outraged democracy, according to the best information available in this city.

There is a growing belief here that in certain cases guilt is to be made extremely personal. German military officials, responsible for certain acts that outraged civilization, are to be punished, representatives here of the Entente say. Among these are the men who ordered or caused the murder of Edith Cavell, of Captain Fryatt and for the sinking of certain hospital ships and specific acts that stand out in their sheer wanton brutality.

The British, French and Belgian governments have "blacklists," officials here say, of individuals who under cover of license of war committed crimes which call for punishment. And it is expected that these governments will insist that these individuals be turned over by the Germans for trial before properly constituted tribunals. It is possible that Germany will try to balk against this. But officials say that action will be taken against the individuals that horrified civilization by their wanton brutalities.

Poughkeepsie Had 222 Deaths.

Poughkeepsie's death toll from pneumonia from October 1 to October 28, totals 222, according to the Eagle-News of that city.

13,000 CAPTURED BY BRITISH IN ITALY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1.—British troops fighting on the Italian battle front have captured 13,000 prisoners the war office stated today.

The important town of Sacile (only thirty miles west of the great Austro-Hungarian base at Udine) has been occupied and the Tenth army reached Brugno.

(This represents an advance of more than 16 miles from the Piave in a northeasterly direction.)

The defeated Austro-Hungarian armies continue their rapid flight towards their own borders.

PEACE ONLY WAY TO AVERT STARVATION

Austria-Hungary In a State of Revolution With Hungary Living Over Again the Days of 1848.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Zurich, Nov. 1.—Revolutionary demonstrations throughout Austria-Hungary are increasing.

Austrian newspapers declare that the Hungarian food blockade must be raised or there will be civil war.

The whole nation is aflame and advices from Budapest declared that the people are "again living over the revolutionary days of 1848."

Commercial life is at a standstill and vast demonstrations are taking place continuously.

Throngs in the streets of Budapest shout for a "free and democratic Hungary."

There are numerous student processions during which revolutionary songs are sung.

Mobs, with stones and bricks, smashed the windows of food shops and public buildings in the Hungarian capital.

"Death and disillusion" envelop Austria. The people are dying like flies from sheer starvation. The undertakers, due to the scarcity of coffins, cannot bury the dead decently.

"The only way to avert further starvation," said the Arbeiter Zeitung, of Vienna, "is to obtain peace and thus save the state."

The people of German Austria have taken the reins of government into their own hands.

One of the last acts of the Austrian government to fan the flame of civil war was to cut off the Hungarian coal supply.

MORE INFLUENZA CASES REPORTED

Thirty New Cases Reported Thursday Making Total Number Since Epidemic Started of 7,536—No Ambulance Calls Thursday.

Thirty new cases of influenza were reported to the health board Thursday, making the total number of cases reported since the epidemic started 7,536. A majority of the cases reported Thursday were for three days from October 27 to 30.

While the epidemic appears to be on the wane no chances should be taken by those who have so far escaped the disease. The action of the health board in keeping the ban on for another week is generally commended.

The city ambulance spent a quiet day and evening Thursday and responded to no calls.

Election Day Hour Longer.

The fact that election day will be an hour longer Tuesday will not add to the cheerfulness of the election officials. The polls will open at 6 in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

Services Resumed at Ulster Park.

All services at the Ulster Park Church will be resumed next Sunday, November 3. The pastor will preach at the Union Center Chapel in the evening.

AUSTRIAN ARMY MAY HAVE SURRENDERED

Possible That Fighting On Italian Front Has Already Stopped And Austrians Have Surrendered.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1, (1 p. m.)—Negotiations between Austria-Hungary and Italy for an armistice are proceeding, it was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

It is uncertain whether or not fighting has yet ceased on the Italian front, but it is expected momentarily to stop if it has not already done so.

The terms are unknown.

In view of the terms imposed upon Bulgaria and Turkey it is presumed that the Allies will demand that Austria surrender unconditionally.

It was reported yesterday that Austria's appeal for an armistice had been referred by General Diaz to the Allied council at Versailles. It is possible that the Allies have already sent back the terms to Italy and that they have now been presented to the Austrian commander.

COUNT TISZA KILLED IN BUDAPEST STREET

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1, (11 a. m.)—Count Tisza, former premier of Hungary, was killed and one of his relatives wounded, by a soldier, while walking in the streets of Budapest, according to a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen.

Count Tisza, the "iron man" of Hungary, was for more than twenty years premier of that portion of the dual empire. He remained in office until 1916, when internal changes forced his resignation. He was succeeded by Dr. Wekerle.

Count Tisza, although nearsighted, was a noted duelist, and had countless victories to his credit "on the field of honor." A staunch reactionary, like his father, who also was at one time premier of Hungary, Count Tisza was one of the strongest Magyar supporters in Hungary.

The sailors in the Austro-Hungarian navy are reported to have revolted and placed the Pola fleet at the disposal of Hungary.

(Pola is the chief Austro-Hungarian naval base on the Adriatic sea.)

South Slavonian soldiers are deserting their regiments and are plundering and murdering the civilian population.

The flight of the emperor was made in a special train of eighteen cars. Quantities of furniture, food and money and the crown jewels were carried along.

AMERICAN ARMY ON GERMAN SOIL

Germans Withdraw Outposts And Artillery—Metz the Pivot of the New German Retreat.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the American Army Northwest of Verdun, Nov. 1. (10 a. m.)—Reports from the Second American Army west of the Meuse state that Metz is the pivot where the new German retreat rests.

German soil has been reached between the Meuse and Switzerland, hinting at an early abandonment of all territory west of the Meuse by the Germans. Outposts are being withdrawn and artillery jams the roads far to the rear.

The enemy is apprehensive of an attack.

Some prisoners say that they saw giant guns loaded on trains at Metz for quick transfer into Germany, although this is denied by other prisoners.

Many narrow gauge railways have been torn up and artillery is being shipped from the front opposite St. Quentin to the Metz and Vosges regions, according to still other prisoners.

The artillery firing increased on the American front today and airmen and patrols attached to the Second American army are active.

WASHINGTON HAS RECEIVED BIG NEWS

Most Important Developments of the War That Cannot be Made Public Because Premature Publication Might Prove Disastrous.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Officialdom waited with tense nerves today for the biggest developments of the war. The atmosphere was surcharged with extreme excitement.

President Wilson was up until long after one o'clock this morning decoding personal messages from Colonel E. M. House. He was at his desk long before breakfast working on his replies which were immediately placed on the cables. These messages carried, it is assumed, the final word of the United States on the armistice conditions and general outline of peace terms which are to be passed on by the supreme war council at Versailles. The final decision of that body may be a question of hours, officials who should know, admitted.

It was frankly admitted both at the White House and the state department that there is information there covering the most important developments of the war. This cannot be made public now, not because there is any desire on the part of the president and Secretary Lansing to embark on a course of secret diplomacy, but because premature publication might prove very disastrous. However, it is promised that all the facts will be told the American people as fast as it can be done in safety.

Meanwhile, there is a belief here that the Allied fleet, probably including some American units, may have passed through the Dardanelles. The Black Sea fleet, taken over by the Kaiser's naval officers from Russia, and supplemented by the Goeben and Breslau, which are reported again to have hauled down the Turkish crescent emblem and to have hoisted the German battle flag, is in the Black Sea. It is to be destroyed if it does not surrender.

Word of a battle in the Black Sea is hourly awaited. It is possible, it was said, that the Germans would surrender. But the fleet is strong enough to put up a fight.

The German emperor has left Berlin for German great headquarters, according to information reaching here today. While officials have no information concerning the reports that he and the crown prince finally have decided to abdicate for the latter's eldest son, twelve-year-old Prince William, it would cause little surprise if this does take place. Germany actually is at the point where she will have to surrender unconditionally, officials said today, and they are convinced that the entire military party of that nation finally realizes this. Naturally, there has been no great love lost between the military commanders who have had to bow to the whims of the Kaiser and the crown prince, so they will waste little sympathy now. In fact, leaders of the military party can be expected to assist in kicking the Kaiser out if by so doing they can prevent themselves being made the objects of the righteous wrath of a finally aroused German people.

It is expected that the armistice terms for both Germany and Austria will be in the hands of the president for transmission to Berlin and Vienna in the immediate future. Whether there will be any announcement that they have gone forward is a matter on which officials refused today to throw light. They also curtly refused to make any announcement of the Versailles conference. All these things are so closely connected and so charged with dynamite, officials said, that they could not be discussed until the president himself authorized an announcement.

New Automobile License Plates.

The 1919 motor vehicle plates in this state will be of a black background with white numerals. The fact that Secretary of State Hugo placed the contract for the plates several weeks ago assures not only the full supply required but also an early delivery. It was only after considerable correspondence that the color scheme of black and white was settled upon. Certain color combinations are no longer possible owing to war conditions.

Resigned His Position.

George Brown, who for the past year has been employed by the Felp Cigar Company, has resigned his position. He was a good cigar maker and well liked by every one and is missed by all in the factory.

Poughkeepsie's Tax Rate.

Poughkeepsie's city tax rate for 1919 will be $23 1506. This is just the city tax rate and subject to the addition of the state tax. This year the city tax rate in that city was just under $20.

WAR AT A GLANCE

Two momentous developments, one political and the other military, stood out in the war situation today.

Austro-Hungary is steadily crumbling to pieces and with revolution and civil war imminent, anything can happen in that torn country.

The political developments and the military movements are closely related for the crushing defeat of the Austro-Hungarian armies has had keen political and moral effect in the dual monarchy and has hastened the the spirit of freedom among the people.

Emperor Charles of Austria has issued a proclamation directing the authorities to avoid conflicts with the people and to yield to them. This may be an actual step towards abdication and if it is the two Kaisers may both go at the same time.

It is estimated that the Austro-Hungarian prisoners on the Italian front number close to 60,000. The whole Austro-Hungarian front in the Monte Grappa sector broke down and the Italians are pouring through the hole.

The Italian Tenth army has forced a crossing of the Livenza river and is now pressing towards the Tagliamento, the last water barrier of any importance between the advancing allied hosts and the Austro-Hungarian boundary.

Italian cavalry has overrun the whole of the great Friuli plain, completely routing the enemy.

British troops that forced the Piave have advanced over 16 miles taking Sacile and capturing 13,000 prisoners.

The whole Austro-Hungarian right flank is now in danger of being cut off.

The British began a new attack this morning on the front south of Valenciennes in an evident effort to turn the great Mormal forest. Good progress has been made.

Just how far the Allies have gone in carrying out the conditions imposed in the armistice granted Turkey is not known, but the Dardanelles have already been traversed by Allied ships and Constantinople is under the guns of a great Allied fleet.

The Railroad Administration have made the following appointments of officials of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad, effective November 1:

R. B. Jones, acting federal auditor; E. J. Dempsey, acting federal treasurer; Z. P. Boice, acting federal purchasing agent.

Mr. Jones has been auditor of the railroad company for many years past. Mr. Dempsey succeeds Frank Corkendall, who remains corporate treasurer. Mr. Boice succeeds J. G. Rose.

It Was Upside Down.

This morning while Alderman Powell of the Ninth ward was on his way to his box factory several of his friends stopped him to inquire the reason for the flag being upside down on the armory flag staff. It was thought that perhaps President Wilson had sent out another appeal to his fellow countrymen asking them to elect rubber stamp. Alderman Powell turned his steps toward the armory and asked Jack Mullen who was in distress. Jack took one glance at the flag and then muttered that Pete Halloran must have been excited when he raised the flag this morning.

WARD'S PLATFORM "TO WIN THE WAR"

That Is the Great and Only Concern of the American People At This Moment, He Says.

Congressman Charles B. Ward has issued the folowing statement to the voters of this congressional district:

House of Representatives U. S.
Washington, D. C.
November 1, 1918.

To the voters of the 27th Congressional District:—

In my appeal for your support on election day, November 5th, wish to call your attention to the fact that I have supported all the president's war measures since the declaration of war against the Imperial German government, and also supported all preparedness measures prior to the declaration of war.

I am for victory and lots of it. It is my belief that the only issue before the American people this coming election is "To Win the War." The great and only concern of the American people at this moment is the welfare and protection of our gallant young heroes who on the bloody battle fields of France are fighting to maintain and uphold the honor and integrity of the American flag. As in the past, I shall in the future continue to support all legislation that has for its object, either directly or indirectly, the speedy and conclusive winning of the war, and will do all in the past, I shall in the future conreturn of our victorious soldier and sailor boys to their homes and families.

If you have a relative or friend in the military or naval service of our country, and you desire any information as to the soldier's or sailor's location or welfare, or if you desire assistance in matters connected with allotments, allowances, insurance, compensation, etc., I assure you of my willingness at all times to render such service for yourself, relatives, or friends.

Assuring you of my genuine appreciation for your vote on election day should you so honor me, I am,

Faithfully yours,
CHARLES B. WARD.

DOMINICK COOGAN KILLED BY AUTO

As He Alighted From a Wagon Stepped in Front of Spinneweber's Auto—While Being Conveyed to Kingston City Hospital He Died.

Dominick Coogan of Port Ewen, died from injuries received when struck by an auto driven by Mr. Spinneweber, while being conveyed to the Kingston City Hospital shortly after 6 o'clock Thursday evening. Mr. Coogan was employed at the American Grenade Loading plant in Port Ewen. He had been riding in a wagon on his way home from work and as he jumped from the wagon to walk to his home he was struck by the automobile. Mr. Spinneweber immediately stopped the car and Coogan was placed in it and a hurried trip was made to the office of Dr. Ross, but the physician was out on a call, and it was decided to bring Coogan to the Kingston City Hospital. Coogan died on the way to the hospital and the body was turned over to Undertaker N. D. J. Murphy. Mr. Spinneweber runs an auto bus line between the Grenade plant and the Sleightsburgh ferry. At the time he was conveying Edward Cashin, Curtis R. Shurter and Edward Davis, inspectors at the plant, to the ferry. The accident happened near the Port Ewen cemetery.

SERGEANT RADELL'S TWO EXCITING DAYS

Promoted on One Day and Went Over the Top Next Day. "And It Sure Was Some Excitement," He Writes.

On Active Service With the American Ex. Forces, Oct. 5, 1918, Somewhere in France.

Dear Mother, Sister and Brothers:

Having a few minutes to spare I take great pleasure in writing you a few lines to let you know I am in the best of health and hope these few lines will find you all the same.

Well, mother, I have had quite some experience in the last few weeks, and believe me I am mighty lucky. On the 24th of September I was made sergeant and on the 25th I went over the top, and it sure was some excitement.

Well, I suppose you people think that I am making great progress in the army, on account of me being promoted twice in two months. Well, I surely did work hard for it, but I am going to work still harder to advance a little further.

Well, mother, I received about five letters today and among them was one from Fred Dennis and it sure was a dandy. It consisted of five full pages and all very interesting. We are having some weather over here just now. It is cold and frosty mornings but quite warm during the day, but I imagine we will have to put up with some real cold weather before long, but I guess we will be able to stand it alright.

I must say there is some class to you people back in the state taking flying trips to New York. You surely must have had a swell time, and how I wish I were there to enjoy some of them. But never mind it won't take long to finish up this argument, as we have Jerry on the run all along the line from one end to the other, and I surely think this will be his last. But you can bet us boys over here won't feel offended when we hear that peace has been declared.

Well, I will bring my letter to a close, hoping to hear from you soon and sending my love to you and my best wishes to my friends and neighbors. I remain your son,

SGT. WM J RADELL,
Co. A, 302nd Engineers,

OSTERHOUDT EVEN WITH ONE GERMAN

"He Got Me With a Pistol and I Got Him With My Rifle, So We Are Square, But He Is Pushing Daisies Now."

Private Raymond Osterhoudt, wounded in France, writes the following letter to a friend:

Oct. 7, 1918.

Dear ——:

I suppose you will be surprised to hear from me in England. But I was wounded at St. Quentin. I suppose you have read in the papers how we drove the H.I. off and out of the Hindenburg Line, the place the Germans prized so much. I stopped a bullet in the ankle, and can't tell how bad I am hurt because I have splints on and haven't stepped on my foot yet. But I hope I won't be lame, but if I am I suppose I will have to hobble around on it. But I guess I will be alright.

How is Kingston getting along. I suppose it is as slow as ever. I will be glad to get back. I have had just about all the fun I want. It is good sport as long as it lasts. I am sending you a button off a German cap. I got it off the one that shot me. He got me with a pistol and I got him with my rifle. So we are square, but he is pushing daisies by now, so you see I got my share. I also have a watch I took from this German, and it is a good one. I took it as a remembrance of the war. I am in a very nice place called Breighton on the English coast. I like England much better than France, but give me the good old U. S. A. You know it don't matter where you are there is no place like your own country.

You must write as often as possible because there is nothing to do here but lay in bed, and I get lonesome. I suppose I will be in bed three or four months, and then the same time on crutches. Don't that sound like jolly good fun. (But it isn't). I am tired of it already. I will send you a picture I had taken just as soon as I receive them. I had some taken a few days before I went in trenches, but I don't think they are very good. And I would like to have one of you. I think I will close for this time, hoping you are well. And don't forget to write soon. I remain as ever,

RAY.

PVT. RAYMOND OSTERHOUDT,
Red Cross Hospital,

Suessex, England.

Private Osterhoudt will be glad to hear from any of his friends.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Charles Vincent of Bowen street, who has been ill of grip, is improving under the care of Dr. G. W. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Barnard of Kingston visited Mr. Barnard's father, William Barnard, on Broadway Thursday. Mr. Barnard is very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Prull and family of Cottekill, moved into the house of Benjamin Wells on Broadway Wednesday.

The store of the late Uriah Ellsworth will be open Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock and instructions will be given those wishing to vote. This is non-partisan.

Mrs. William Fox of New York city is visiting her sister, Mrs. Clarence Hotaling, on Broadway for a few days.

Miss Elizabeth Bishop of Sleightsburgh, who assisted in caring for the influenza patients in Kingston, has been a victim to the disease herself and is slowly recovering.

Mrs. Elvin Hutchings of Broadway is ill of grip.

Sylvanus Van Aken of Railroad avenue has accepted the position as yard clerk at the West Shore station at Port Ewen and commenced his duties today.

A terrible accident occurred on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in front of the residence of Edward Bishop on Broadway. Dominick Coogan and Hugh Clark rode from the American Grenade works on the wagon of Benjamin Bruner and they had alighted from the wagon as Bruner drove into the yard of the Cormack property and were about to cross the street when the seven passenger Nash car owned by Frederick Spinneweber was returning from the Grenade works and knocked these gentlemen, throwing Dominick Coogan under the car, breaking his leg and cutting a large gash on his neck, and threw Hugh Clark on the sidewalk. Mr. Coogan was taken in Spinneweber's auto and taken to the Kingston City Hospital but died on the way. Mr. Clark, although severely shaken up and cut about the face, was able to walk to his home. Readers of this awful accident, listen, the lights in our village are fierce and the place where the accident occurred is a very dangerous curve and needs a light that is a light. This is the first such an accident has happened and unless we have a better lighting system installed in our village there will surely be more. We need a light in front of Henry E. McKenzie's residence as it is so dark there that it is impossible to see anyone that attempts to cross the street. For the sake of the lives of the people let us have better lights and let this serious accident that happened Thursday evening be a warning to speeders, fast driving and lightless nights on Broadway in the beautiful village of Port Ewen.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tucker and family have moved from their house on Tilden street to the house of Mrs. Emma Terpening on Broadway.

Omens on Horses.

There are several omens dealing with horses. A warrior likes his mount to neigh before going into battle, as this is a sign of victory. To meet a piebald horse is lucky, and if you meet another soon after you may express any wish and get it granted. A horse with a white star on its forehead is another lucky sign, but to meet a white horse means bad luck, unless one spits at it. This averts the ill luck. Another bad sign is for a horse to neigh opposite the door of a house. It means sickness to one of the inmates.

STATEMENT OF

Congressman Charles B. Ward

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 27TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, COMPRISING THE COUNTIES OF COLUMBIA, SCHOHARIE, GREENE, ULSTER AND SULLIVAN.

In my appeal for your support on Election Day, November 5th, I wish to call your attention to the fact that I have supported all the President's war measures since the Declaration of War against the Imperial German Government, and also supported all preparedness measures prior to the Declaration of War.

I am for victory and lots of it. It is my belief that the only issue before the American people this coming election is "TO WIN THE WAR." The great and only concern of the American people at this moment is the welfare and protection of our gallant young heroes who on the bloody battlefields of France are fighting to maintain and uphold the honor and integrity of the American Flag. As in the past, I shall in the future continue to support all legislation that has for its object, either directly or indirectly, the speedy and conclusive winning of the war, and will do all in my power toward hastening the return of our victorious soldier and sailor boys to their homes and families.

If you have a relative or friend in the military or naval service of our Country, and you desire any information as to the soldier's or sailor's location or welfare, or if you desire assistance in matters connected with allotments, allowances, insurance, compensation, etc., I assure you of my willingness at all times to render such service for yourself, relatives or friends.

Assuring you of my genuine appreciation for your vote on Election Day should you so honor me, I am,

Faithfully yours,

CHARLES B. WARD

THE AIRCRAFT SCANDAL

The report of Investigator Charles E Hughes on the expenditure of $640 000,000 in making aircraft which existed only in the imagination was turned in last Saturday but was held up until last night It is a document so bulky that it is beyond the power of most if any newspapers to present it in its entirety to readers in time for study before election but a few big facts stick out prominently

It is shown that the administration of our war department has been marked by incredible incompetency on the part of the men in it from Secretary Baker down who are presumably honest, so that the crooks in the department have had full swing One of these is recommended for court martial, and others for criminal prosecution This, however will not bring back the wasted money, nor restore the lives of our brave soldiers who perished because they lacked the protection of a sufficient number of flying machines

It appears that Henry Ford, whom President Wilson has asked Michigan to elect United States Senator, stands to make $5,000,000 through war contracts, although he has repeatedly stated that he would make no money out of the war Moreover, Ford has maintained in his plant, against protest a nest of pro-Germans, and the head devil of the lot has been head of the drafting department Imagine the Kaiser putting a patriotic Frenchman in charge of Essen

It is a pitiful sight to see the President of United States backing the political campaign of a hypocrite and liar and urging the people to retain in power the political party which has permitted this crime to be permitted

We commend to the attention of all patriotic voters this official statement by the Republican National Committee

In their extremity to win the election at any cost, the Democratic party is not stopping at any method It is dragging every department of the government, from the presidency down, into politics It is invading every organization and activity which has been set up in order to help win the war and using the machinery thereof in order to win the election of Democratic candidates, regardless of whether they have supported the war or not.

The Committee backs up this general indictment with particular evidence The Director of the Naturalized Citizens' Bureau has ordered the foreign language press to translate and publish Democratic propaganda For example, Italian newspapers have been induced to state that it was the Democratic Administration which lent Italy $760 000,000 Moving picture managers have been directed to put Democratic propaganda on their slides In hundreds of similar ways the Democrats are trying to capitalize patriotism Part of the money we contributed towards the war they are spending as if it were a campaign fund, since there is small difference between money and the time of paid Government officials Can the "put this across?"

It is evident that the war is rapidly nearing its end and it will not be long before over two million soldiers will return to this country Most of them will find their old jobs held by other people In some cases these other people will be dismissed to make room for the returning soldiers In other cases the homecomer will have to look for a new job Anyway figure it as you will, there will be a myriad of people out of jobs something will have to be done about it, and a beginning should be made at once for a problem of this size cannot be handled in a moment With this idea in view what is known as the Weeks resolution, calling for a Committee on Reconstruction, was introduced jointly into both Houses a month ago It is not a partisan measure, since it is proposed that the Committee shall be equally divided between Republicans and Democrats Nevertheless, the influence of the President has kept this measure from being adopted Why? Merely because he desires to run everything himself. No "divided council" for him So that he may be the only head in the saddle" he has degraded his high office by practically commanding the people to vote only for Democrat. Citizens who disapprove of this policy can express themselves in the only way that will be understood by voting the straight Republican ticket.

It has never been our policy to say anything to stir up sectional feeling in this country, but there are a few facts which ought to be thoroughly understood Men and women of the North have contributed 85 per cent of the Liberty Loans, 90 per cent of the income taxes and 85 per cent of the killed and wounded soldiers in this war They have contributed in like proportion to all the various war funds Yet we are under the thumb of the 15 per cent of our effective citizenship in the South It is the ignorant and bigoted Kitchin who supervises the framing of our tax bills and it is his constant effort to 'soak' the North The price of wheat coal and other necessaries has been fixed by the Government but when it was proposed to regulate the price of cotton, which we have to use for clothing now-a-days, a howl went up which drowned out the proposition If the country follows the President's order and elects another Democratic Congress 15 per cent of our people, aided by the power of the Chief Executive, will continue to exploit the other 85 per cent for their own benefit How about it, voters?

Dear Friend

Just a line to let you know that I am alive and kicking and hope this short note finds you and all the rest the same as when I left If you saw me now you would never know me for I am raising a little misplaced eyebrow and am getting fatter every day, for I have gained 11 pounds since I have been over here, although we are doing the most active duty of any outfit in the U S army, and are getting the best of feed so I should worry how long they keep me over here so long as I don't lose my life, and they ship me back on a good, fast boat A friend of mine here in my outfit received a letter from his brother, who is in the same outfit that your brother, John, is in, and he said that they are not fighting yet so you need not worry about him getting hurt for those who are not fighting yet will not do so, for a telegram this morning accepts all of President Wilson's terms, and that means that the end is close You may have read it in the papers long before this note and I think that John will be sent back to the states long before I get back for I think about getting back some time next summer or early in the spring when the blue buds come around Then I'll come rambling back to old Kingston on the Hudson and take care of my woman again and come over and see Fred and also John Fisher and sample some of his beer again

Well I cannot think of anything else to write just now so will close with love and best wishes to you and the rest I remain a friend to friends and always happy Give my regards to Fred and Agnes Hope to hear from you soon

Which kind are yours?

THERE are only two kinds of clothes, those that save and those that waste. If you buy wasteful clothes you are depriving the government of needed resources of material and labor.

If you want to save, insist on clothes of good quality; all-wool materials; reliable tailoring. One such suit can be made to do double service this year if you wear it carefully and keep it well pressed.

Our duty is to see that you get such clothes, and we know we can meet our obligations best by offering

JOEL BRINK HAS A CLEAN RECORD

Member of Assembly Who Has Represented His Constituents Faithfully and Should be Re-elected This Year.

ASSEMBLYMAN JOEL BRINK.

There should be no doubt of the re-election of Hon. Joel Brink as member of assembly from Ulster county. His two years' service has demonstrated his competency and his painstaking interest in his constituents. He has had passed or has aided in the passing of much legislation of benefit, has helped defeat much that would have been harmful, and his votes generally have been in accord with what he thought was right and which reflected the wishes of the majority of those whom he represented.

A certain number of lawyer-legislators are needed but we are more and more impressed with the need in the legislature of sound, conservative business men acquainted with the every day needs of all the people and who are in direct contact with them, and no man could more completely fit these requirements than does Mr. Brink for he has been for many years recognized as a business man of wide experience and of sound judgment and one who is closely in touch with the people, especially with those living in rural sections. The president of the Dairymen's League wrote Mr. Brink some months ago, and long before the present campaign, as follows: "We take pleasure in enclosing resolution recently adopted by our board of directors. In doing so may we express our appreciation of your loyal support of the legislation so absolutely necessary to the agricultural interests of the state."

Furthermore, legislative efficiency depends, in a large measure, on knowledge of the procedure and acquaintance with the duties of the position and for this reason a district is better and more effectively served by one who has had the experience and who has acquired a standing and an acquaintance in the legislative assembly, all this, Mr. Brink has to his credit. It is clear, therefore, that the voters of Ulster county will, in the exercise of good judgment, return him to the assembly.

JONAH YARK OR JOE ANNE?

French As She Is Spoke by the American Doughboys.

Paris, October 20 (By Mail)—"Jonah Yark" some call the Maid of Orleans. Still others—but that is the story. "French as it is spoke" is a weird and wonderful thing among American soldiers arriving in France, but they are rapidly developing into linguists. Teaching them the language and customs of the French is one of the duties assumed by the Y. M. C. A., National Catholice War Council, K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board and Salvation Army, the overseas organizations of the seven merged in the United War Work Campaign.

An American troop train bound for the front had stopped in a city of France. The soldiers were light artillerymen. Their guns, cunningly painted in the latest style of camouflage, were blocked on flat cars, each car bearing an escort of Yanks. Other cars were laden with caissons and "chow" wagons, while a number of box cars scattered through the train housed yet more olive drab fighters. The whole outfit was jubilant that their training days were over and they were at last on the way to where their grim pets could bark defiance to the enemy. Cheers and shouts rang to the station roof and the French waved back and wished them bon voyage.

"What's the name of this place?" yelled the soldiers. But the passengers didn't understand the query.

In a few minutes a Y. M. C. A. man came into view and the question was howled at him.

"Orleans," he replied. "You've heard of the Maid of Orleans. Well, this is the place."

"The Maid of Orleans? Oh, you mean Joe-Anne of Arc," spoke up the historians of the party.

"Joe-Anne of Arc. Where do you poor fish get that stuff, anyway? Here you've been in France three months and don't know how to pronounce a simple name. It's 'John Dark'" and the soldier speaker leaned back and lit a cigarette with a flourish indicating that the amazing ignorance of his companions bored him insufferably.

But the opposition had numbers, if not knowledge, on its side and the superior one was quickly buried under a verbal barrage that had him gasping.

"We're talkin' about a lady, not a man," was the chorus.

"Fall off and wake up! Who ever heard of a girl being called John!" was the final clincher.

Then the diplomat of the party chimed in.

"What difference does it make how you pronounce the name?" he queried. "Wasn't she the girl that stood the invaders of France on their beans? And ain't we on the way to do the same thing?"

History of the Town of Marlborough

The land embraced in the Town of Marlborough was purchased by Governor Thomas Dongan of the Indians in 1683. It was settled in 1694, being among the oldest settlements in the State. It has some of the oldest church societies in the county, and is one of the original towns.

The material for the History of Marlborough has been gathered with great care and labor from ancient, public and private records and from traditions which have been traced and found correct.

The original documents entire to a great extent are published.

The Town took an active part in the Revolution, it furnished many officers and men whose names and services are given. Also the Proceeding of the Committee of Safety, and the examinations, trials and convictions of disloyal persons.

The history gives the ancient patents and land grants and their description and boundaries, ancient maps of great importance, all town officers from the first organization, much of the history of the Towns of Newburgh and Plattekill while they formed a part of Marlborough. The names of all voters are given at certain different periods. Also important matters in connection with the Civil War; the names of all the officers and men who went from the town as soldiers.

The history is as authentic as is possible to make it, and contains facts, records and customs never known or heard of by the present generation.

LIFE IN CAMP STUART.

It is Great Although Discipline is Strict Writes Private Smith.

Private Raymond Smith writes from Camp Stuart, Va., to a friend in Ardonia:

Dear Kiddo:

Just a few lines to let you know that I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. Just wish I could be there by you. That sure was some dream. I wish I could have been there when that happened. You know. Ha! Ha! This is a nice place down here. We have a band of 36 soldiers. They play when we drill and every night after supper. We have to drill six hours a day. It is awful tiresome. It is some hot down here alright. We are allowed to go to town, but I don't go because I have no cause to go. I have just come in from drilling now. The next thing is mess and then retreat, and then I am through for the day.

How is the weather up there in old Ardonia. Gee! We live in houses now instead of tents. There is a lot colored soldiers down here in camp, also there is about forty thousand soldiers down here. We will soon get our guns now for guard duty. We are going to stay here to guard the camp because the rest of the boys are going across. So don't you worry about me going across, but I would like to go and get a crack at the huns. I can't get a furlough yet because I haven't been here long enough yet. I might get one before Christmas. If I can I will let you know. I suppose I will get the fruit soon. You can send me The Kingston Freeman. I would be glad to get it. I don't get any papers from up there. I would like to be there for supper tonight. I just can see you and I sitting down, laughing and talking together.

Oh, I got a lot to tell you about the army. It is great. It would make you cry to see the boys getting ready to go over there and the band playing. There are a lot of people come to visit their friends and relatives. They are awful strict with a fellow down here. Can't hardly speak. But we are getting good drilling down here. You would think you were in a city to look at the camp. We have streets, but the houses are not painted. We see aeroplanes every day, as they teach them to fly down here.

Well, I will have to close for now as it is nearly supper time. I remain as ever, a true friend of yours.

CANFIELD'S WOUND WAS ALMOST FATAL

But He Made a Brave Fight for Life and is Recovering, Writes Chaplain White to Mrs. Canfield.

Mrs. J. E. Canfield has received the following letter from the chaplain of the 51st Pioneer Infantry:

On Active Service With the American Expeditionary Force, September 24, 1918.

My Dear Mrs. Canfield:

Since your boy, Julian K., is not able to write, I find great pleasure in writing for him. You may not have had any word from him since his injury almost a month ago, and so I know you will be glad to hear something definite.

While his company was on detached service at some distance from the rest of the regiment, he received a shrapnel wound in his right foot and leg. The boy had a pretty hard time of it for the first 24 hours, and some of his toes had to come off, but he made a brave fight with death and won it.

Soon afterward he was transferred to another hospital, and his company was moved to another place, so we lost track of him. Yesterday afternoon I took four or five of our musicians and dancers over to a nearby hospital to put on a little show in the wards for the patients. Corporal Canfield heard a solo in the ward next to his, recognized the voice as that of one of his friends, and sent for the singer. When we found he was there, of course, we all went in, and the poor fellow was almost overcome with joy at seeing the bunch. Three of the entertainers were from his own squad (he was their corporal), and he had been in the habit of calling them his "dizzy bunch." We then put on a show in his ward and announced to the patients that we were showing for his special benefit.

His leg is still giving him some pain, but he is getting along as well as could be expected and will get well all right. But with a part of his foot gone, he will not be able to take up his work as a soldier again so he will be home again with you and his wife without having to wait until the end of the war. As I told him yesterday, instead of doing his bit all along, he gave a whole lot at one time and will beat us all home.

We of the regiment sympathize with you in his injury, but we are glad that you did not lose him and that you will have him with you before many months have passed.

Most sincerely yours,
CHAPLAIN LOCKE WHITE,
51st Pioneer Infantry.

FRENCH PREMIER PRAISES Y. M. C. A.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Nov. 1.—Thanks to the American welfare organizations for giving to the French Army a substitute for home while in the field are conveyed in a letter by Georges Clemenceau, premier of France, to Emmanuel Sautter, director general of the Foyers du Soldat, just made public. The Foyers are financed by the American Y. M. C. A., which furnishes also half of the workers. Mr. Clemenceau expresses sincere hope for the success of the financial drive which the Y. M. C. A. is making in connection with six other organizations in the United War Work Campaign. His letter follows:

"It gives me great pleasure to testify my profound appreciation and that of the entire French army, to the work that has been accomplished by the Foyer du Soldat of the Franco-American Union. Your Foyers constantly established in increasing numbers, as great at the front as in the rear, have rendered our soldiers most highly appreciated service. Thanks to your efforts our children have found in your midst a center of distraction and comfort in every way that was possible; with touching delicacy and unceasing devotion, the Foyer du Soldat has succeeded in replacing the Foyer (hearth) of the family. With all my heart I thank the Y. M. C. A. for the precious aid that they have brought to the armies of the Entente in common fight against the enemy. Their work has in no small degree supported the morale of our armies, and thus have gloriously associated themselves in the common work that shall bring about our victory. I desire to join my most sincere wishes for the unqualified success of the financial campaign which you are newly commencing with the view to the development and support of your work."

DUBOIS MISSES NEW WAYS.

But Will Gladly Return to Old Ways When War is Over.

Ray E. DuBois, formerly of the New Way Engine Department of the Canfield Supply Co., but at present with the Auto Ammunition Train in France, writes a very interesting letter to William C. Kingman, manager of the Canfield Supply Co., as follows:

October 5th, 1918.

Mr. Kingman,

Dear Sir:—Thought you would like to hear from me, so just a line to let you know I am feeling fine and enjoy working as much as ever.

Some great trucks and cars here. I am still looking to see the first New Way and Kingstonian signs, but I haven't found them yet. Very few stationary engines here, so these people are way behind the times.

I certainly have seen some country and great sights. Will be glad when we can explain things, as now only a little can be said. But the boys are all anxious to get right at it and finish it up. So I hope we keep right on driving them back until Kaiser Bill is given out for souvenirs. We are kept right on the go all day, but stand it alright, as we have good eats and everything as good as army life affords. But we all will be glad when we see the good old U. S. A. again, but we want to see Berlin first and we can't get there too quick.

Hope Tompkins is getting along alright with things and that everything is going nicely.

Give my regards to all. Best of luck and wishes for continued success.

As ever,

RAY.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears of a "Rich Reason" Advanced by Democrats as to Why Al Smith Should be Elected.

"I am telling you straight," remarked the busy barber applying a hot towel to a customer's face, "when the Democrats have reached the point where they say 'Defeat of Alfred E. Smith Democratic nominee for governor, will be interpreted abroad, and especially in Germany, as repudiation of President Wilson,' it means that they are realizing that Brother Al is bound to go down to defeat."

"Where did you read such a statement as that?" queried the customer, removing the hot towel from his mouth so he could speak better.

"Why, it was in the official organ of the Jefferson Club the other morning," replied the busy barber, "and I just happened to think of it."

"Well, I should say so," responded the customer.

"The funny part about it," continued the barber, "is the fact that Berlin has probably never heard of 'You Got Me Al' but they surely have heard of the wonderful strides made in prosecuting the war carried on in New York state under the Whitman administration, and you can take it from me all they are hoping is that more Democrats will be elected Tuesday than Republicans."

"But I am telling you fair," continued the barber, "Germany when she gets the election returns Wednesday morning is going to realize that this old United States means business and that the only note that we want to get from her is one reading 'We surrender unconditionally,' and any other kind of a note ought to be tossed in the waste paper basket instead of taking up a lot of time replying to it."

"You said something then," replied the customer warmly.

"And the best thing we voters, men and women, can do Tuesday," said the busy barber, "is to go to the polls and see to it that our vote counts one more for the overwhelming majority New York state is going to give Whitman and the rest of the Republican ticket."

SAVORY, SATISFYING DISHES.

The conscientious housewife who is trying to fulfill the requirements of her food pledge is often much puzzled to plan a well-balanced meal.

Spring Soup.—Peel and thinly slice one onion and cook in a tablespoonful of butter for five minutes, stirring constantly, then add four cupfuls of chicken broth, with one cupful of stale bread crumbs. Bring to the boiling point and let simmer 45 minutes, then rub through a sieve and add a cupful of milk. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two of flour and stir until well blended, then pour on gradually while stirring constantly the boiling hot stock. Add a cupful of thin cream or a beaten egg with a cupful of milk. Season well with salt and pepper and serve piping hot.

Oatmeal Scrapple.—Boil two pounds of flank steak until tender, put it through a meat grinder. To the liquor of the beef add a pint of oatmeal, boil for half an hour, then mix with the meat, season with pepper and salt, and mold in a bread pan. Fry the slices in hot fat until deep brown.

Prune Ice Cream.—Soak a cupful of prunes in water to cover overnight. Cook in the same water until tender, remove the stones and put the pulp through a strainer. Add a cupful of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, a pinch of salt, and 1¼ cupfuls of cream. Freeze and serve garnished with nut meats. The juice of two oranges may be used in place of the lemons, making a pleasing variety.

Creamed Sardines.—Melt four tablespoonfuls of butter, add one-fourth of a cupful of soft bread crumbs, add one cupful of cream and bring to the boiling point; add one box of sardines, two cooked eggs finely chopped, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of paprika. Reheat and serve on narrow strips of buttered toast.

Doughnuts that have become dry may be dipped in cold water and reheated in the oven, making them quite palatable.

COURT MARTIAL FOR AIRCRAFT SCANDALS

Hughes Report Filed Thursday Holds General Squier Incompetent and Recommends Court Martial for Other Officers.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The long awaited report on the aircraft investigation conducted during the last five months by Charles E. Hughes and Attorney General Gregory was placed before President Wilson late yesterday by the attorney general and immediately made public.

Delays and wastes of the production program, the report declares, were due chiefly to "the defective organization of the work of aircraft production and the serious lack of competent direction of that work by the responsible officers of the signal corps."

No fault is found with the management of aircraft affairs since the reorganization of last May, which placed John D. Ryan in charge. The civilian personnel of the aircraft production board is exonerated of any wrong doing.

Attorney General Gregory in a letter transmitting the report to President Wilson says he is in "substantial accord" with the findings of Mr. Hughes.

The report finds no "graft" in the generally accepted sense, but makes recommendations for proceedings against army officers held guilty of dealing with corporations in which they were interested.

The chief waste from the original appropriation of $691,51,866, the report says, was in the abandonment of two types of airplanes—one of them the Bristol—and a failure to salvage, aggregating about $24,000,000. The figures show that last May, of that great appropriation, $134,000,000 actually had been disbursed and that up to October 1 the expenditures had reached about $110,000,000 for all aviation purposes. This did not include expenditures of the sales department which buys material and resells it to manufacturers and for advances for building plants. Contracts let, however, committed about $470,000,000 of the fund. The figures are given in answer to the general charge that the sum had all been expended with practically no results.

The attorney general concludes in his letter of transmittal that "no such profits have been allowed as to justify a charge of bad faith."

Criminal Prosecutions Urged.

Criminal prosecutions of three army officers are recommended on the ground that they transacted business with corporations in which they were financially interested. These officers are: Lieutenant Colonel J. G. Vincent, former vice-president of the Packard Motor Company, now in charge of the airplane engineering division of the aircraft production bureau; Lieutenant Colonel George W. Mixter, a stockholder in the Curtiss Airplane and Motor corporation, production manager of the bureau, and Second Lieutenant Samuel B. Vrooman, Jr., inspector of propellor lumber and stockholder in the S. B. Vrooman Company of Philadelphia, which sold mahogany to the government for airplanes.

Mr. Hughes concluded his report with the statement, that, "it is not within the province of this report to make recommendations with respect to administrative policy, but it should be said that under the direction of Mr. Ryan and Mr. Potter there has been improvements in organization and progress has been made in a gratifying measure."

William C. Potter, to whom Mr. Hughes referred, is assistant director of airplane production.

The general conclusions and recommendations by Mr. Hughes follow:

"The evidence discloses conduct which, although of a reprehensible character, cannot be regarded as affording a sufficient basis for charges under existing statutes, but there are certain acts shown, not only highly improper in themselves, but of especial significance, which should lead to disciplinary measures. The evidence with respect to Colonel Edward A. Deeds should be presented to the secretry of war to the end that Colonel Deeds may be tried by court martial under articles 95 and 96 of the articles of war for his conduct (1) in acting as confidential adviser of his former business associate, H. E. Talbot of the Dayton Wright Airplane Company, and in conveying information to Mr. Talbott in an improper manner, with respect to the transaction of business between that company and the division of the Signal Corps, of which Colonel Deeds was the head; and (2) in giving to the representatives of the committee on public information a false and misleading statement with respect to the program of aircraft production for the purpose of publication with the authority of the secretary of war.

"The absence of proper appreciation of the obvious impropriety of transactions by government officers and agents with firms or corporations in which they are interested, compels the conclusion that public policy demands that the statutory provisions bearing upon his conduct should be strictly enforced. It is therefore recommended that the officers found to have had transactions on behalf of the government with corporations in the pecuniary profits of which they had an interest, should be prosecuted under section 41 of the criminal code.

Mahogany Probe Recommended.

"The federal trade commission should be requested to report upon the proper cost of mahogany for airplane propellers to the end that upon the coming in of its report the question of the propriety of further action with respect to the transactions of the mahogany manufacturers and importers' association may be determined.

"Permit me also to suggest that a special division, or subdivision of the present bureau of investigation, in the department of justice should be assigned to the consideration of suggested delinquents in connection with aircraft production so that the work already done may be appropriately followed up. In particular it is recommended that the activities in relation to spruce production which, being largely centered on the Pacific coast, it was impracticable to embrace in the present inquiry, should be carefully scrutinized."

Board Members Exonerated.

"An exhaustive examination," says Attorney General Gregory's letter of transmittal, "into the entire conduct of aircraft matters fails to show that any member of either board has had any desire to delay or retard production, or has done anything to accomplish that result, or has intentionally caused the waste of funds, or been actuated by a disloyal motive, or been guilty of dishonesty or malversation, unless there be truth in the specific charges which will now be referred to. (The charges against Colonel Deeds and the officers charged with dealing with concerns in which they were interested).

"I agree with the conclusion reached by Judge Hughes that there is no evidence upon which it fairly can be charged that any member of the aircraft boards, including Howard Coffin, General Squier, Colonel E. A. Deeds, Colonel R. L. Montgomery, Colonel S. D. Waldron, Richard F. Howe, Harry B. Thayer, Admiral Taylor and other naval officers has been unlawfully interested in any contract or transaction relating to aircraft production.

"Indeed, as to this charge, there has, at no time, been ground for a question involving any of these gentlemen, except Colonel Deeds."

Of the $691,000,000 originally appropriated for aircraft production, disbursements reported down to June 30, 1918, including advances for building of plants and outlays of the sales department, similar expenses amounting to $430,000,000, and $276,000,000 of the appropriation remained unexpended at the end of the year. Of the $755,000,000 spent for airplanes and engines, $25,000,000 was for overseas manufacture, $21,000,000 in advances to contractors and $1,697,000 for experimental and development work. This left only $106,000,000 spent for actual production in the United States. Of the latter amount $57,000,000 was paid under fixed price contracts and $49,000,000 under cost plus contracts.

Official estimates place at $24,000,000 the loss to the government on account of the condemnation of two types of planes, the Bristol fighting plane and the S. J.-1 training plane, including about $6,500,000 on the Eristof and $17,500 on the S. J.-1.

Gen. Squier Called Incompetent.

Taking up the question of faulty organization of the signal corps soon after the declaration of war, Mr. Hughes declared Major General George O. Squier "had neither training nor experience for such a large industrial enterprise."

Referring to Colonel Deeds, Mr. Hughes cited Colonel Deeds's own testimony that he was a stockholder and officer in a number of Dayton, O., concerns either directly or indirectly concerned in the aircraft production in that city. He was an organizer, but not a stockholder in the Dayton Wright Airplane Company, and it was to H. E. Talbot, an officer in the company, the report says, that Colonel Deeds sent information on a ruling of the judge advocate general relating to the appraisal of contracts, after he had been commissioned in the army. Other confidential communications to Talbott and other business associates in Dayton are quoted, but these had been sent while Deeds was acting in an advisory capacity to officers in charge of contracts. For communicating with Talbott after he became an officer, the investigation by court martial was recommended.

Mr. Hughes also disputed parts of Colonel Deeds' assertions in a letter to the aircraft production board that on being commissioned he had severed his official connection with, and transferred his stock in these concerns: The United Motors Company of New York, the Dayton Engineering Laboratory Company, Dayton; Metal Products Company and the Domestic Building Company of Dayton. He transferred stock in the United Motors Corporation to his wife, the report says, it was shown, and book accounts showing the time of the transfer of other stocks in some cases, says the report, were dated back to August 28, when Deeds was appointed a colonel, although not actually made until later. Since it is not proven, however, that Colonel Deeds transacted any business with those firms before he transferred his stock, no criminal charges are made against him.

KEEFE'S CONDITION IS VERY SERIOUS

Severe Mental and Shock and Physical Injuries—Unconscious for Several Days—Now Slowly Recovering.

Mrs. Andrew J. Keefe, of 291 Washington avenue, has received the following letter from France in relation to the accident to her son, Robert E. Keefe, American flyer, an item in relation to which was printed in The Freeman about two weeks ago. The letter is dated: American Red Cross, France, October 5th, and is as follows:

Mrs. A. J. Keefe,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Madam:—You, no doubt, were notified some time ago of the injury to your son, Robert, but have probably not received any details since then as to his condition. I have known him for many months, having been a member of the same detachment of cadets, leaving Garden City at the same time last fall, and having spent a long time at St. Maixant with him last winter. Since then I have been at the same flying schools with him at about the same time, and we have been close friends all the while. We left Avord at the same time and spent the last day of a short leave together at Paris. We called on some friends of mine in a suburb and had a very pleasant afternoon. I am going to tell you of his accident in detail and with absolute frankness. On one of the first few solo flights he made at this school an accident occurred which caused the machine to fall to the earth out of control far enough to break it up and to cause Robert severe injuries in the head and chest. For several days he made a wonderful fight for life, being entirely unconscious and able to take but little nourishment. Then he recovered consciousness and began to take liquid nourishment regularly. During the last day or two he has been able to open his mouth and take more solid food, such as milk toast and cream of wheat. He is not thin and is recovering his physical strength rapidly. At the present all his symptoms are favorable. When I saw him several days ago he was able to recognize me, I believe, and I am quite sure he understood part of what I said to him—perhaps all. His mind has received such a shock that thinking is a great effort, but he seems stronger and brighter each day. He has been able to speak only a few words so it is hard to tell just how much he understands. He has no apparent external injuries, except that thus far he has not been able to use his left arm. He is receiving the best of treatment, and as soon as he becomes strong enough will undoubtedly be sent to a specialist and will probably recover all his faculties. But it may be a long time, and it is very doubtful if he will ever fly again. I imagine he will be sent home as soon as his condition warrants the trip.

Robert is one of the brighest boys I have ever met, and was popular among his comrades, who are all very sorry, both for him and for you, in his trouble.

As long as I am around this camp I will keep in touch with Robert and will write to you occasionally about his condition and his prospects for a complete return to health.

Any letter I might receive from you I shall be glad to answer. Anything I can do for Robert I shall make it a point to do.

Sincerely,
McFARLAND HALE,
2nd Lieut., A. S. U. S. A.,
Amer. Ex. F.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, Nov. 1.—The regular church services will be resumed in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning next, November 3. Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching service at 10:45. Epworth League devotional meeting at 6:45 and preaching again at 7:45. A good congregation will be much appreciated by the pastor, the Rev. J. J. Lyons.

John Beaver, Jr., has returned from a few weeks' stay in the western part of the state at Medina. While here he was ill for a few days with influenza.

Mrs. Andrew Eyett received word of the death of her niece, Mrs. Charles Dunn, in New York city last week. Her death was caused by an attack of influenza, followed by pneumonia. She leaves a husband and two little daughters, besides many near relatives to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Peter Scheide recently returned from a visit in New York city. She was accompanied to the city by her daughter, Mrs Daniel Linden, and the latter has not yet returned to Esopus.

Miss Grace Yonkers, of Rosendale, N. Y., is now acting as one of the three ticket agents at the West Shore station in this village. Mr. Northrip having been scalled away by the death of a nephew.

In the recent drive for the Woman's Land Army, the sum of $64 was secured in this village. Only three days were given the solicitor in which to canvass, consequently everyone could not be visited. And another fact to be considered is, the people are not so interested in this as they are in the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and other well known organizations.

Miss Augusta Witt, of West Esopus, who has been in New New York city for some time, is now at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. A. Witt.

Mrs. Phoebe McLean is visiting friends in Delhi, N. Y. She will probably be away from Esopus most of the time during the absence of her son, Harlowe, who is "somewhere in France" doing his bit for Uncle Sam.

Miss William J. McLain, who was stricken with influenza while caring for her sister, Miss Hattie Faulding at the home of the later in Kingston, is improving a little each day. A nurse was secured a few days ago and both ladies hope soon to be entirely convalescent.

Miss Helen Cole is steadily improving and expects in a few days to look upon Spanish influenza, in her case, as a thing of the past.

Mrs. Leslie E. Mott and two little daughters, Gladys and Florence, were guests of Mrs. Mott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George House, Union Corners, for a couple of days this week.

Frank Comment.

It takes a small boy to take the conceit out of one. Being a little stout and not often well pleased with myself, on one occasion when wearing a new gown I asked my small son if I did not look rather well. He eyed me for a moment, then took the starch out of me by asking, "Are you not just a little wide across the shins?"

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 1.—Nothing else was considered on the stock market this morning except the good news in regard to the war situation. Gratification over the certainty of the approach of peace was reflected in public buying on a large scale which more than overcame expressions of uncertainty about what will happen to the leading industrials when their output is no longer needed for war purposes. During the first fifteen minutes nearly all the stock traded in was established at considerably higher levels. The steel industrials generally made gains ranging from fractions to over one point. Steel Common advanced ¾ to 103¾ and Crucible Steel gained 1⅜ points to 56, while Baldwin Locomotive rose 1⅛ to 81. The greatest advance was in the stock which fluctuated over a wide range daily for several weeks, Mexican Petroleum, which rose six points to 167. Marine Preferred was directly influenced by published statements that the English directors having charge of the negotiations for the sale of the British lines is expected here shortly and that announcement completely may be made next week. That stock, which closed yesterday at 118⅝, moved up to 122⅞. The copper stocks were active and strong, with American Smelting advancing 1¼ to 88¾ and Kennecott ⅝ to 40. Distillers advanced 1¾ to 49, and Corn Products 1½ to 47. Southern Pacific gained 1¼ to 103¾.

There was a good deal of irregularity in the stock market during the forenoon. Another selling movement caused sharp recessions in the steel shares, United States Steel breaking 1½ to 102¼ and Bethlehem 2½ to 66½. Marine Preferred reacted one point to 121, and American Smelting lost one point to 87¾. Mexican Petroleum continued active and strong, moving up to 170.

The market was irregular in the afternoon. Steel Common sold down to 101½ and rallied again to above 102, while Bethlehem Steel B showed extreme weakness, dropping to 64, a loss of 5 points from the high. Baldwin Locomotive reacted over two points to 80¼, and Republic Iron and Steel sold down from 83 to 80¾. Marine Preferred reacted nearly 2 points to 120⅝, while Kennecott fell ¾ to 39¼, and Mexican Petroleum dropped from 170½ to 166¼.

The market closed irregular today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Tomorrow is National Fire Prevention Day.

Board of Charity Commissioners meet Monday evening.

A few hunters went to the Catskill Mountains this morning on a deer-hunting expedition.

There will be work at the sewing rooms of the Red Cross tonight. A large attendance is desired.

The W. F. M. S. of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church has postponed its monthly meeting on account of the epidemic.

All Souls Day will be observed at the Polish Church tomorrow. Masses will be had at 5:30, 8 and 9 o'clock a. m. in the open air.

A small quantity of gasolene on a rag will take off soap marks on windows which ragamuffins rubbed on last night, but do not light a match while doing the work.

This is the annual busy time at the office of the board of county election commissioners, packing up and sending out the election ballots and stationery for the towns.

Owing to the epidemic, the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, which was to have been held on Tuesday next, has been postponed until Tuesday, November 19th.

Alfred Barley, an employe in the box making department of H. W. Palen Sons' Co., Broadway, was given a Ford by his shopmates yesterday as a birthday present. It is propelled without the use of gasolene.

First Victory Boy's Work.

"Say, I'm wise to you, all right," a Western Union messenger boy whispered to one of the directors of the United War Work Campaign in the New York headquarters. The director's desk had only just been moved in and the work of the big drive had hardly begun.

"I'm onto your stunt," the boy went on as he swung a grimy fist over the desk; "you're goin' to give us fellows that ain't old enough to go to war a chance to earn an' give to back up a fighter an' help win the war. Listen; I'm in on this."

The crumpled $5 bill he dropped on the desk made him the first of "a million boys behind a million fighters" who are to be lined up as Victory Boys during the week of the drive.

There will be a division of Victory Girls, too, and every boy and every girl enrolled will have to earn every dollar he or she gives to the war work fund.

Why You Should Give Twice What You Did Before

The government has fixed the sum needed for the care of the men in the service at $170,500,000.

Unless Americans give twice as much as ever before our soldiers, sailors and marines in 1919 may not enjoy their

- 3,000 recreation buildings
- 1,000 miles of movie films
- 100 stage stars
- 2,000 athletic directors
- 2,500 libraries supplying 3,000,000 books
- 35 hostess' houses
- 15,000 "Big Brother" secretaries
- Millions of dollars of home comforts

Give to maintain the morale that is winning the war now

The Tango.

The tango is a dance of Mexican origin, which is supposed to imitate the actions of the negroes. It has the same rhythm as the Spanish habanera, but is played much faster, and is worked up faster and faster, till it ends like the dances of the modern ballet dances. Sometimes it has five notes in the melody to four in the accompaniment, and vice versa and its peculiar harmonic progressions give it a weird fascination that has much to do with its popularity.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Mrs. Sarah Williams of 62 Ann street is seriously ill.

T. D. Abrams and family toured to Springfield, Mass., yesterday to visit their son, Oscar E. Abrams.

Earl Snyder of Clinton avenue, who has been confined to his home with grip, is up and around.

Amasa Smith of 36 Warren street has left for Duluth, Minn., on business for the Ætna Explosives Co., of Port Ewen.

Mrs. Frank Messing and Miss Emma Messing, of 37 Liberty street, who have been seriously ill with the grip, have recovered and are able to be around again.

Captain A. L. Brooks and wife of No. 43 Walnut street will remove shortly to Cooperstown, N. Y., where they will make their home with their son, Milton C. Brooks.

Raymond Haines of 56 Elmendorf street, advertising manager of the L. B. Van Wagenen Company is still confined to his home with an attack of the prevailing epidemic.

Burton and Herbert, the young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Van Deusen, who have been ill with influenza at the family home on Hasbrouck avenue, have recovered.

The condition of William P. Glass of 45 Janet street, stenographer for the grand jury and of the district attorney's office, who is ill with pneumonia at the Benedictine Sanitarium, was reported as being critical at noon today. Mrs. Glass is also ill at the sanitarium.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hopper left Kingston today for an extended stay at Chester, Philadelphia, having intended taking the trip two weeks ago but were delayed on account of the illness of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Buchholtz, who were ill with a severe attack of influenza.

Survey Parties Needed.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 1.—The Construction Division of the Army is without doubt the most extensive organization of the kind in the history of the world. The approximate value of construction projects undertaken by this branch of the government since the United States entered the war is one billion dollars. The figures representing the material used and the men employed are staggering. 250,000 workmen have been under the control of the division at one time.

Among the division's urgent needs are 50 chiefs of survey party at $2,700 to $3,000 a year; 50 transit men at $2,400 a year; 25 levelmen at $2,100 a year; 125 rodmen at $1,800 a year and 50 topographic draftsmen at $2,100 a year. These positions are open to men only except the drafting positions, which are open to both men and women. All of the positions are in the civil, not the military service.

Persons interested should apply to the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington D. C., or to the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, New Orleans, Seattle or San Francisco.

Applicants will not be required to undergo a written examination, the examinations being of the "non-assembled" type; that is, the ratings will be based upon education, training, experience and physical ability as shown by the applications and corroborative evidence. These positions offer an excellent opportunity for patriotic service, and the civil service commission urges qualified persons to apply without delay.

Sims Thanks British.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Vice Admiral Sims has written the British admiralty a letter of appreciation of the gallant achievement of Lieutenant Mauney, in rescuing three hundred American soldiers and three hundred members of the crew of the transport Otranto, wrecked in collision off the coast of Ireland.

Architecture Reflects History.

Like most Alsatian towns, Metz reflects its Franco-Prussian history in its architecture. Part of the fortifications were begun by the French and finished by the Germans. The Roman Catholic cathedral looks down over the Lutheran church. And the city gates, of which there are ten, are doubly named, Porte d'Allemagne or Deutsche Tor, and so on.

58 JEWISH WORKERS GOING "OVER THERE"

Col. Barker Bids Godspeed to the Graduates of Training School.

The whole-souled co-operation between the seven great organizations working for the happiness and welfare of our soldiers and sailors was recently illustrated at the graduation exercises of the tenth class of the Jewish Welfare Board's Training School in New York. Col. William S. Barker, who went to France representing the Salvation Army with the first contingent of our troops and has been "over there" fifteen months, was the principal speaker and wished the fifty-eight Jewish workers of the class Godspeed, while Louis Marshall, the prominent Jewish attorney and philanthropist of New York, lauded the work of the Salvation Army among the boys at the front.

"What our fighting boys need is inspiration and heart and character in those who are there to help them," declared Col. Barker. "You will represent in the camps and overseas the ideals and standards of the Jewish faith, and it is up to you above all things to be consistent in your religious practices. Practice what you preach. That, I am sure, has been the secret of our own success. If you live up to the principles of your faith and give what you have to give from a heart big with love, the boys will respect you, whether they be Protestant, Catholic or Jew."

The newly graduated field workers will make a total of 200 men doing field work in our camps and naval training stations under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare Board. The Board has about fifty "huts" in the various camps and mobilizing centers in all large cities where soldiers and sailors of all faiths are welcomed. A headquarters has recently been established in Paris, and 100 men are being recruited here for overseas work. There are now nearly 125,000 Jews serving in the army and navy.

THANKS FOR AIDING FOURTH LIBERTY LOAN

SECOND FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT
LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE,
120 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

October 28, 1918.

Editor, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—Please let me attempt an expression of thanks for the indefatigable and extremely valuable co-operation received from your estimable paper during the campaign of the Fourth Liberty Loan. The success of the loan in this district and in the country at large is primarily due to the constant pressure of publicity for which you and the rest of the splendid company of patriotic editors have been so largely responsible. Here in the Publicity Department we might, to a limited extent, initiate and direct the flow of Liberty Loan material. It was you and your associates who put it before the people, adding to it, amplifying it, giving to it the prestige of your hearty support and approval.

Your countrymen owe you a debt of gratitude which I, who can best appreciate its size and nature, wish to be the first to acknowledge.

Yours very truly,

JOHN PRICE JONES,
Asst. Director of Publicity.

PIONEERS WAITING ORDERS TO GET IN

Not Yet In a Fight, "But There Will be Something Doing When That Time Comes," Writes Corporal Sass.

The following letter from Corporal Frank Sass has been received by John D. Schoonmaker:

France, Oct. 5, 1918.

My Dear Mr. Schoonmaker:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am doing my little bit not far from the lines. Our company has not been in the fight yet, but a part of our regiment has been there and worked hand in hand with the engineers who have been doing some great work on the American front. We are ready for orders at any time, and you can bet there will be something doing when that time comes.

Our company has had the experience of being under fire from a Boche plane and which resulted in nine casualties. This made the boys bring in their fighting spirit and all are anxious to get a crack at the Hun. This happened the latter part of August.

This old world looks big on a large map but I think it is only a very narrow path, because I have only been here a few months, and I have met quite a number of boys from that little town on the Hudson. The very first day that we arrived in France we were greeted by a "Hello fellows, how is everybody in Kingston." We were surprised to see a fellow from Kingston by the name of Ackert. We left that town a few days later, and since then I have seen quite a number of boys from home, John McManus, Frank Augustine, Martin Oulton and a fellow by the name of Boughton, and last, but not least, our former captain, good old Captain Kidder who came to our barracks to see us, and tell over the days that were spent at Camp Wadsworth. He certainly [illegible] time. Some of the boys received our mail from our former Company M members, and stated that Lieut. Dittus was made a captain. This shows that Kingston is on the map, and will also have a great many men who will receive great honor as military leaders.

I would like to tell you a whole lot about our whereabouts and our doings, but the censor does not permit me to tell all. The only thing that I can say for myself is that I am feeling fine in fact, I never felt better in my life and I hope to hear the same from you in the near future so I will close with best regards to you. I am sincerely,

The following order has been issued by the treasury department:

Refilling narcotic prescriptions, modifying Article 11 of Regulation No. 35.

Treasury Department
Office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Prescriptions calling for morphine, codeine, or heroin, which are written by registered practitioners for patients suffering from Spanish influenza and any pulmonary or bronchial affections may, until further notice, be refilled, provided that at the time of issuance by physicians instructions are noted in the body of such prescriptions, "Repeat if necessary," and the druggist filling and refilling the same shall note thereon each and every date upon which such prescription is refilled.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Each mother's son
Who is "Over There,"
If he is on the ground
Or in the air,
Is doing his best
This war to win,
To rid this world
Of its great sin.
The sinners to save,
Jesus came in the world
Many of our boys
Their dear lives they gave.
Many have gone
To a hero's grave,
Each this world
From its sin to save.
They all are ready
To answer the call.
We'll do our bit
Tho it be small
And over the sea
Our boys we'll send,
And pray this conflict
Soon will end.
To think of the brutal deeds
The Germans have done,
I think the war
Sure ought to be won
Our boys for us are fighting
In France so far away.
God protect each one
And bring them home some day.

NO JOY BELLS RING IN LONDON

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1.—Estimates of the time when hostilities will end range all the way from the middle of next week until January first. But there is not a whisper in celebration of the turn of events nor joy bells rung.

The average man knew what was coming but they did not know whether it would be tomorrow or ten years away.

The people have remained confident and unmoved but are keenly interested in the successive editions of the papers. Business will be carried on as usual until Germany surrenders.

COMMENT BY LONDON PRESS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1.—"Gallipoli is avenged," says the Daily Mail today in commenting on the unconditional surrender of Turkey. "Germany is isolated and utterly alone but her armies have not yet been broken. Germany's exhaustion is obvious."

"Germany has, indeed, lost the war," says the Daily Express. "She will not tarry long before making peace now that she has been weakened by the dropping out of the tyrannical Turks. The surrender of Austria lays Bavaria open to invasion, forcing Prussia to accept peace at any price."

The Post declares that Germany has not sufficient troops to defend two fronts.

The Daily News says that the "position into which Germany has now sunk is desperate and irretrievable."

Hard to Get Men.

The fact that every able bodied man in Kingston who wishes to work can secure work and is at work is shown by the fact that there has been no response to the advertisements of the Central-Hudson Line for forty men to work as deck hands and freight handlers on the steamers Odell and Poughkeepsie. These boats have been manned all summer by men from the Merchant Marine, and now the government is understood to have transferred the men for other work.

PANIC PREVAILS IN RHINE PROVINCES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 1.—Panic prevails in the German provinces on the Rhine, says a dispatch to the Star today. The German government is prepared to allow Allied troops to occupy Coblentz and Cologne, a Berlin paper says, if necessary.

Austrians Abandon Udine.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The enemy has abandoned Udine, leaving vast stores of war material, according to an official dispatch from Rome to the Italian embassy this afternoon. The Italian offensive has now developed on a front of more than 200 kilometres, "declared by military experts to be without precedent during the four years of the war," the dispatch added.

The New Woman.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Two women in Chicago have entered another "occupation" which before the war was believed to be almost exclusively the province of man. Armed with smiles, gay roses in their hair and revolvers, the two entered the back room of a saloon here, lined up ten men and robbed the place of $200. Then they fled to their taxi and escaped.

KELSE WOUNDED TWICE IN ACTION

First Bullet Didn't Stop Him, so He Went on Until Showered With Shrapnel, Then Helped Another Man to Rear.

Two letters have been received by Mr. and Mrs. William E. Kelse, of No. 4 Smith avenue from their son, Private Charles O. Kelse, Co. B, 107th U. S. Inf., telling of his wounds received while doing his bit for Uncle Sam. He was formerly a member of old Co. M and left Kingston with them last fall. The letter follows.

Oct. 1, 1918,
A. E. F.

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to let you know of what is doing and how I am.

We went "over the top" Sunday morning, September 29th, and we certainly walloped the Huns a fine blow, although I am sorry to say that I was unable to see the attack though, on account of being wounded.

We had advanced only about 200 yards behind a very fine barrage of artillery and machine gun fire when one of "Jerry's" bullets caught me in the right leg (thigh). I looked it over and found that it had just grazed or burnt me, so I got up and went along with the company.

We pushed him right along until a point about 800 yards from the starting tape, and here he stopped and put up a stiff little fight, but it didn't take long for us to overcome that.

This is as far as I got as a shell exploded in the near vicinity and I received a shower of small bits of shrapnel in my left upper arm and hand. This didn't amount to much, although it was sufficient to put me out of action, so I immediately started back to a first aid post, bringing with me a sergeant I found lying in a shell hole, having been shot through the leg and was unable to navigate alone.

I am back at a base now but am feeling fine, so there is no need for you to worry. Anyway, by the time you receive this I will be all O. K. and on the job again.

This is an Australian hospital I am now in and everything is going fine. Why, up in the line the Yanks and Australians get along like regular brothers, each having a fondness for the other.

Well, mother dear, there is a lot I could write and especially of my first trip "over the top" as it was wonderful and I only wish I could have finished it out with the boys.

Don't worry as my wounds are slight and will easily heal, but rejoice in our victories that we are having all along the line.

I will write later and tell you more of what is doing.

Best regards to all the neighbors and friends and with love to all the family, I remain your loving son.

CHARLES.

Oct. 3, 1918.
A. E. F.

Dear Mother:

A few more lines today to let you know I am getting along first rate and soon expect to be back with my company and ready for business again.

I am still at the 3rd Australian Hospital and this morning the sister relieved my arm of the small bits of shrapnel, so now I only have to have the cuts heal up, which will take very little time.

I am up and around all day, leaving the ward after the colonel's inspection of patients, returning for meals and sleep at night. I generally hang out at the Y. M. C. A. hut in camp, or visit Bob Duffois and Benny Cheshire, two Kingston boys in our company, who are sick and not allowed out of bed.

I lost a very good Australian friend (that is I lost his companionship) last night as he sent sent to another hospital. Another chum named Van Wagoner, who is in my company, leaves tomorrow for a convalescent camp so I won't have him to pal around with until we meet again. He is in my ward with a shrapnel wound.

A fellow makes friends fast in this life so one never gets lonesome.

We have an Australian entertaining party here at the camp and they perform for the patients at the Y. M. C. A. each night. Tonight they put on a new show, so I will be right on deck to see it.

We are getting fine eats and plenty of them. One thing I am drinking is a lot of tea, and when I was home I wouldn't touch it at all. You see we get tea for our meals and the Y. M. C. A. sells it for 2 cents a cup, so during the day between meals we often have a lunch of biscuits and tea.

I don't know as yet if any of our Kingston boys were killed in the "push" but I do know a few of them were shot and wounded. I know of one, Harry Carnwright, who was in my squad "going over." He received a machine gun bullet through his thigh and was right next to me when he fell. But that wasn't enough to kill him, so he will be all O. K. in a couple of weeks or so.

Lew Schuberg was feeling sick and did not go "over" with us, so he is safe alright. I saw him while on my way from the first aid station to the hospital. No doubt he will write about me being hit and perhaps make the wounds worse than they really are.

Edgar asked for souvenirs in his letter to me. Well, I was a bit out of luck on the souvenir subject and only got a match box holder, a jack knife and a cigarette case out of my search through the Germans. Of course there were big machine guns and rifles, etc., galore, but who wants to carry any of those around with him, even if they are German. What I wanted to get was a nice German watch or a German officer's pistol. They carry very fine watches and nice little pistols that fit in the palm of your hand, but I ran across none at all.

Anyway my wound is plenty of souvenir enough even though it is small. Hey what!

Well, mother dear, I guess I will knock off and read the news of today and see how the war goes along. We are certainly winning all along the line.

When you hear of the war being over, why just start a nice hot fire in the stove and prepare a meal fit for the president, as I will certainly be along to do good justice to a good old meal, baked and prepared by mother.

Will write later on and keep you informed concerning myself. Don't give up hopes as everything is in our favor.

Your loving son,
CHARLES.
